

Who pays 'home' fees for higher education in England?

A guide for students starting courses on or after 1 August 2021

(plus any students who started their course before 1 August 2021 but want to use one of these categories for an academic year starting on or after 1 August 2021)

28 May 2021 version 2

UK Council
for International
Student Affairs

Copyright

This document is copyright to UK Council for International Student Affairs (UKCISA).

Disclaimer

The information contained in this document is given in good faith and has been carefully checked. However, UKCISA accepts no legal responsibility for its accuracy, and does not accept any liability for any loss, damage or inconvenience that results from its use.

Only use the latest version

This is a 'living' document, and readers should expect to see it develop over time, to reflect changes in the content or interpretation of the regulations. Please check the version number you are looking at matches the latest version on display at www.ukcisa.org.uk.

The regulations are new and complex, and it may be some time before the Government's intentions about the interpretation of some parts of the regulations becomes clear. Changes will be made to this document to reflect any new information we receive.

Not all categories are described in this document

See the 'Complete list of categories' (page 8 of this guide) for signposts to information about the other categories on the UKCISA website.

Introduction

The rules about who pays 'home' fees for higher education courses in England are set by the Government's Department for Education (they are not set by UKCISA). They are set out in the following sets of regulations:

- the Higher Education \(Fee Limit Condition\) \(England\) Regulations 2017 (as amended) (S.I. 2017 No.1189)
- the Education \(Fees and Awards\) \(England\) Regulations 2007 (as amended) (S.I. 2007 No.779)

The regulations identify all the different 'categories' of student who can insist on paying at the 'home' rate. They set out all the requirements a student needs to meet, to fit one of those categories. You only need to find one category that you fit into (if you fit more than one, that is not a problem).

The regulations can be difficult to understand, so UKCISA has provided this guide to help you.

Where to start?

There are lots of categories to look at, so if you think you might be a 'home' student, use the following hints to find the right category quickly. Remember, you only need to find one category that you fit (so if you do not fit the category suggested here, you will need to look through all the others).

If there is no suggestion here for you, you will have to look through all the categories.

- If you are Irish
 - ➔ first check category '3 years in Republic of Ireland/UK/Islands, settled in UK' (page 13)
- If you have indefinite leave (but not through the EU Settlement Scheme)
 - ➔ first check '3 years in UK and Islands, settled in UK' (page 10)
- If you have settled status under the EU Settlement Scheme
 - ➔ first check '3 years in UK and Islands, EUSS settled status connection' (page 16)
- If you are the spouse/civil partner/child of a UK national and have lived in the UK for 3 years
 - ➔ first check 'Family member of a UK national' (page 19)
- If you are a UK national or their spouse/civil partner/child, and have lived in Europe/Switzerland/an EU overseas territory for part of the last 3 years
 - ➔ first check 'Brexit temporary offer for courses starting before 2028: UK nationals and family with residence in Europe or overseas territories' (page 20) and 'Brexit temporary offer for courses starting before 2028: Settled and exercised a right of residence' (page 22)

- If you are a UK national or their spouse/civil partner/child, and have lived in any of the British Overseas Territories (these include Gibraltar) for part of the last 3 years
→ first check 'Residence in British Overseas Territories' (page 26)
- If you have residence rights in Gibraltar
→ first check 'Residence in Gibraltar' (page 28)
- If you are an EU national or their spouse/civil partner/child, and moved to the UK before the end of 2020
→ first check 'Brexit protected rights: EU national / EU family / Family of relevant person of Northern Ireland' (page 31)
- If you are an EU national and have lived in the UK or Channel Islands or Isle of Man for the last 3 years
→ first check 'Brexit protected rights: EU national, 3 years in UK & Islands' (page 36)
- If you are a national of Switzerland, Norway, Liechtenstein or Iceland, or their spouse/civil partner/child, and moved to the UK before the end of 2020
→ first check 'Brexit protected rights: Worker and family' (page 40)
- Your parent has been an EU or EEA worker in the UK in the past, and you moved to the UK before the end of 2020
→ first check 'Brexit protected rights: Child of worker' (page 50)
- Your Swiss parent has pre-settled status or settled status under the EU Settlement Scheme, and you moved to the UK before the end of 2020
→ first check 'Brexit protected rights: Child of a Swiss national' (page 54)
- Your Turkish parent lives in the UK, and you moved to the UK before the end of 2020
→ first check 'Brexit protected rights: Child of a Turkish worker' (page 59)

Definitions

Whenever you see a word written in blue italics, it is a technical term. The regulations have defined it, so look here to see what it means. It is not the same as in ordinary life.

Ascendant

This includes a person's "parent, stepparent, adoptive parent or grandparent", according to the Student Finance England Assessing Eligibility Guidance.¹

Civil partner

Look under 'Spouse or civil partner' for the definition.

Dependant

To be a 'dependant', the Student Finance England Eligibility Guidance says you need to have "factual dependency...dependency for any reason, financial or otherwise"².

Direct descendant

The regulations do not define what a 'descendant' means. However, the Department for Education has confirmed to us that it considers a 'direct descendant' to "include child, grandchild and great-grandchild (to include step and adopted children, but not foster children)".

EEA (European Economic Area)

The EEA is a larger area than the EU. It is made up of all the countries in the EU plus:

- Iceland
- Liechtenstein
- Norway (including Svalbard)

For categories where the residence area includes the EEA, the residence area is made up of all 30 countries in the EEA including the whole of the island of Cyprus (that is, including Northern Cyprus).

EU (European Union)

You are an EU national if you are a national or citizen of one of the following:

- Austria
- Belgium
- Bulgaria
- Republic of Cyprus (but not the Turkish Republic of Northern Cyprus)
- Croatia

¹ Student Finance England Assessing Eligibility Guidance paragraph 3.13.2. No definition is provided in the regulations.

² Student Finance England Assessing Eligibility Guidance paragraph 3.13

- Czech Republic
- Denmark
- Estonia
- Finland (extra note: the territory of Finland includes the Aland Islands)
- France (extra note: the territory of France includes the French Overseas Departments of Guadeloupe, Martinique, Mayotte, French Guyana, Reunion and Saint-Martin)
- Germany (extra note: the territory of Germany includes Heligoland)
- Greece (The Consular Office of the Greek Embassy in the UK confirmed for us that "anyone who holds a passport / ID card issued by the Greek Government would be a Greek national who is registered with the Greek Municipal Authorities. This would include those whose documentation describes them as Greek nationals of Hellenic descent. Any such person is, therefore, an EU national [...] unless [...] nationality has been revoked in accordance with Greek law".)
- Hungary
- Ireland
- Italy
- Latvia
- Lithuania
- Luxembourg
- Malta
- Netherlands
- Poland
- Portugal (extra note: the territory of Portugal includes Madeira and the Azores)
- Romania
- Slovakia
- Slovenia
- Spain (extra note: the territory of Spain includes the Balearic Islands, the Canary Islands, Ceuta, and Melilla)
- Sweden

First day of the academic year

The 'first day of the academic year' is defined in the fees and Student Support regulations, which say that if your academic year starts between:

- 1 August and 31 December inclusive, the first day of the academic year is 1 September
- 1 January and 31 March inclusive, the first day of the academic year is 1 January
- 1 April and 30 June inclusive, the first day of the academic year is 1 April
- 1 July and 31 July inclusive, the first day of the academic year is 1 July

This date is used regardless of when your course term starts or when your lectures commence.

Read the text carefully to see whether you are being told to think about the 'first day of the academic year you are paying fees for', or the 'first day of the first academic year of the course'.

Islands

The Channel Islands and the Isle of Man.

Ordinarily resident

You are ordinarily resident in the residence area for your category if you have habitually, normally and lawfully resided in that area from choice. Temporary absences from the residence area should be ignored and therefore would not stop you being ordinarily resident. It is also accepted in the UK courts that an individual can be ordinarily resident in more than one place at the same time; individuals wishing to demonstrate this would have to be living a lawful, normal and habitual residence in each of the areas in question.

If you can demonstrate that you have not been ordinarily resident in the relevant residence area only because you, or a family member, were temporarily working outside the relevant residence area, you will be treated as though you have been ordinarily resident there.

You can read some case law that explores the topic of 'ordinary residence' at www.ukcisa.org.uk/Information--Advice/Fees-and-Money/Ordinary-residence-case-law.

Overseas territories

- Anguilla
- Aruba
- Bermuda
- British Antarctic Territory
- British Indian Ocean Territory
- British Virgin Islands
- Cayman Islands
- Falkland Islands
- Faroe Islands
- French Polynesia
- French Southern and Antarctic Territories
- Gibraltar
- Greenland
- Mayotte
- Montserrat
- Netherlands Antilles (Bonaire, Curaçao, Saba, Sint Eustatius and Sint Maarten)
- Pitcairn, Henderson, Ducie and Oeno Islands
- South Georgia and the South Sandwich Islands
- St Barthélemy
- St Helena and Dependencies (Ascension Island and Tristan da Cunha)
- St Pierre et Miquelon
- the Territory of New Caledonia and Dependencies
- Turks and Caicos Islands
- Wallis and Futuna Islands

Relevant person of Northern Ireland

A person counts as a 'relevant person of Northern Ireland' if they:

- were born in Northern Ireland, and
- at the time they were born, at least one of their parents was any of the following:
 - British Citizen
 - Irish Citizen
 - both a British Citizen and an Irish Citizen
 - not British or Irish, but was entitled to reside in Northern Ireland and had no immigration time limit on their stay

and

- they themselves are a British Citizen, or an Irish Citizen, or both a British Citizen and an Irish Citizen

Spouse or civil partner

'Spouse' means someone who is in a valid marriage. It does not include people who are living together but who are not married.

'Civil partners' are same-sex or opposite-sex couples who have registered their partnership and who have thereby gained formal legal recognition of their relationship. Schedule 20 of the Civil Partnership Act 2004 (www.legislation.gov.uk/ukpga/2004/33/schedule/20) provides a list of partnerships in countries outside the UK that are automatically treated as civil partnerships. Opposite-sex couples were only included in the definition of 'civil partners' in 2019, so these individuals only count as having been 'civil partners' from 2 December 2019 (in England and Wales), and from 13 January 2020 (in Northern Ireland). The definition of 'civil partners' given above is the one used in England, Wales and Northern Ireland, not Scotland.

UK

The United Kingdom, which consists of England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland.

UK and Islands

The residence area described as the 'UK and Islands' consists of:

- England, Wales, Scotland and Northern Ireland (the 'UK'); and
- Channel Islands and Isle of Man (the 'Islands')

Complete list of categories

Here is a list of all the categories (grouped together by theme), with a note about where to find further details. Not all the categories are described in this guide, so for those categories we tell you where to look on the UKCISA website.

Settled

3 years in UK and Islands, settled in UK	page 10 of this guide
3 years in Republic of Ireland/UK/Islands, settled in UK	page 13 of this guide
3 years in UK and Islands, EUSS settled status connection	page 16 of this guide

Family member of a UK national

Family member of a UK national	page 19 of this guide
--------------------------------	-----------------------

Residence in Gibraltar

Residence in Gibraltar	page 28 of this guide
------------------------	-----------------------

Residence in British overseas territories

Residence in British overseas territories	page 26 of this guide
---	-----------------------

Brexit temporary offers for courses starting before 2028

UK nationals and family with residence in Europe or overseas territories	page 20 of this guide
Settled and exercised a right of residence	page 22 of this guide

Brexit protected rights

EU national and family / family of relevant person of Northern Ireland	page 31 of this guide
EU national, 3 years in UK & Islands	page 37 of this guide
Worker and family	page 41 of this guide
Child of worker	page 51 of this guide
Child of a Swiss national	page 55 of this guide
Child of a Turkish worker	page 60 of this guide

Long residence

Long residence	www.ukcisa.org.uk/Information--Advice/Fees-and-Money/England-fee-status#12-long-residence
----------------	--

Special status

Refugee and family	www.ukcisa.org.uk/Information--Advice/Fees-and-Money/England-fee-status#9-refugees-and-family
Humanitarian protection and family	www.ukcisa.org.uk/Information--Advice/Fees-and-Money/England-fee-status#10-those-granted-humanitarian-protection-and-family
Stateless leave and family	www.ukcisa.org.uk/Information--Advice/Fees-and-Money/England-fee-status#11-those-granted-stateless-leave-and-family
Section 67 leave	www.ukcisa.org.uk/Information--Advice/Fees-and-Money/England-fee-status#13-those-with-section-67-

	leave
Calais leave	www.ukcisa.org.uk/Information--Advice/Fees-and-Money/England-fee-status#15-persons-granted-calais-leave-to-remain
Domestic violence or domestic abuse	www.ukcisa.org.uk/Information--Advice/Fees-and-Money/England-fee-status#14-person-granted-indefinite-leave-as-a-victim-of-domestic-violence-or-abuse
Bereaved partner

Students who started courses before 1 August 2021

Students who started courses before 1 August 2021	www.ukcisa.org.uk/Information--Advice/Fees-and-Money/England-fee-status#layer-6082
---	--

3 years in UK and Islands, settled in UK

In order to qualify for 'home' fees under this category, all of the following criteria (a) to (e) must be met:

(a) you must be 'settled' in the UK on the first day of the first academic year of the course

To be 'settled' you must be both ordinarily resident in the UK and without any immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK. The regulations take this definition of 'settled' from immigration law (section 33(2A) of the Immigration Act 1971).

You have no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK if you fall into one of the following groups (A or B or C or D or E):

A. 'Indefinite Leave to Remain' or 'Indefinite Leave to Enter' ('ILR'/'ILE')

If you have Indefinite Leave to Enter (ILE) or Indefinite Leave to Remain (ILR) in the UK, you have no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK.

If you have been given 'settled status' under the EU Settlement Scheme, there is a special category for you to use instead of this one, it is the category headed '3 years in UK and Islands, EUSS settled status connection'. Even though you do have ILE or ILR, you cannot meet the criteria for the '3 years in UK and Islands, settled in UK' category, because of criterion (b), below. So look at the other category instead.

If you have ILE or ILR in Jersey, Guernsey, or the Isle of Man, then this is considered to be ILE or ILR in the UK whenever you are in the UK.

B. British Citizen

If your passport describes you as a 'British Citizen', you have no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK.

A special note for British Overseas Territories Citizens (BOTCs)

Many British Overseas Territories Citizens (BOTCs) are also British Citizens. The easiest way to show you are a British Citizen is to have a passport that lists your nationality as 'British Citizen'. If you do not have one, England's Department for Education indicates in its Assessing Eligibility Guidance 2021/22 (paragraph 3.1.3) that any of the following will be acceptable instead:

- a British Overseas Territories Citizen passport issued before 21 May 2002; or
- a British Dependent Territories Citizen passport issued before 21 May 2002; or
- a British Overseas Territories Citizen passport issued on or after 21 May 2002, but only if you also provide evidence that either:
 - you or your parent was born in a British overseas territory (check the list of 'qualifying territories' at www.gov.uk/types-of-british-nationality/british-overseas-territories-citizen); or
 - you or your parent was registered or naturalised as a citizen (for example, as a British Subject, a Citizen of the UK and Colonies, a British Citizen, a British Dependent Territories Citizen, or a British Overseas Territories Citizen) before 21 May 2002.

If you are a British Overseas Territories Citizen who is also a British Citizen, another category you might fit is the one headed 'Residence in British overseas territories', where the residence area is bigger.

C. Right of Abode

If you have a Certificate of Entitlement to the Right of Abode in the UK in your passport, you have no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK.

D. Republic of Ireland citizen

If you are a citizen of the Republic of Ireland, you have no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK. You are also an EU national and an EEA national.

E. Non-British Citizen serving in the British armed forces

If you are not a British Citizen and you are serving in the British armed forces, you are treated as having no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK, while you serve in the British armed forces. This is because of section 8(5) of the Immigration Act 1971.

Examples of where status is not 'settled'

You are not 'settled' if you:

- have a time limit on the length of your stay in the UK, as shown by your current immigration permission (you have 'limited leave'); or
- are exempt from immigration control, for example you are living in the UK as a diplomat or a member of their household/family (there is an exception to this if you are a non-British Citizen serving in the British armed forces – see above); or
- have a type of British passport that does not give you British Citizenship (for example a British National (Overseas) passport), and you do not have Indefinite Leave

(b) on the first day of the first academic year of the course, you must not be someone who qualifies for 'home' fees under the category headed '3 years in UK and Islands, EUSS settled status connection'

If you are someone who qualifies for 'home' fees under that other category, you will be assessed under that category instead. It includes an easier test about the 'main purpose' for your residence. The category covers people who have settled status under the EU Settlement Scheme, Irish citizens who at some point have lived in the UK and Islands for a 5-year period, and some people who used to have a right of permanent residence under European law and then applied for the EU Settlement Scheme.

(c) you must have been ordinarily resident in the UK and Islands for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course. For example, if your course begins in October 2021 you must have been ordinarily resident in the UK and Islands from 1 September 2018 to 31 August 2021

Note that it is not necessary to have had 'settled' immigration status for the full three years. You can obtain 'settled' immigration status as late as the first day of the first academic year of the course.

(d) the main purpose for your residence in the UK and Islands must not have been to receive full-time education during any part of that three-year period

Tip if you were in full-time education at some point during the three years, then ask yourself: If I had not been in education, where would I have been? If the answer is that you would have been somewhere in the UK and Islands anyway, then you meet criterion (d).

(e) you must be ordinarily resident in the UK on the first day of the first academic year of the course

3 years in Republic of Ireland/UK/Islands, settled in UK

Tip: Only use this category if you have been ordinarily resident in the Republic of Ireland at some point during the three-year period. If you have not, then use the category headed '3 years in UK and Islands, settled in UK' instead. It gives better access to Student Support.

In order to qualify for 'home' fees under this category, all of the following criteria (a) to (e) must be met:

(a) you must be 'settled' in the UK on the first day of the first academic year of the course

To be 'settled' you must be both ordinarily resident in the UK and without any immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK. The regulations take this definition of 'settled' from immigration law (section 33(2A) of the Immigration Act 1971).

You have no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK if you fall into one of the following groups (A or B or C or D or E):

A. Republic of Ireland citizen

If you are a citizen of the Republic of Ireland, you have no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK. You are also an EU national and an EEA national.

B. 'Indefinite Leave to Remain' or 'Indefinite Leave to Enter' ('ILR'/'ILE')

If you have Indefinite Leave to Enter (ILE) or Indefinite Leave to Remain (ILR) in the UK, you have no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK.

If you have been given 'settled status' under the EU Settlement Scheme, there is a special category for you to use instead of this one, it is the category headed '3 years in UK and Islands, EUSS settled status connection'. Even though you do have ILE or ILR, you cannot meet the criteria for the '3 years in Republic of Ireland/UK/Islands, settled in UK' category, because of criterion (b), below. So look at the other category instead.

If you have ILE or ILR in Jersey, Guernsey, or the Isle of Man, then this is considered to be ILE or ILR in the UK whenever you are in the UK.

C. British Citizen

If your passport describes you as a 'British Citizen', you have no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK.

A special note for British Overseas Territories Citizens (BOTCs)

Many British Overseas Territories Citizens (BOTCs) are also British Citizens. The easiest way to show you are a British Citizen is to have a passport that lists your nationality as 'British Citizen'. If you do not have one, England's Department for Education indicates in its Assessing Eligibility Guidance 2021/22 (paragraph 3.1.3) that any of the following will be acceptable instead:

- a British Overseas Territories Citizen passport issued before 21 May 2002; or
- a British Dependent Territories Citizen passport issued before 21 May 2002; or
- a British Overseas Territories Citizen passport issued on or after 21 May 2002, but only if you also provide evidence that either:
 - you or your parent was born in a British overseas territory (check the list of 'qualifying territories' at www.gov.uk/types-of-british-nationality/british-overseas-territories-citizen); or
 - you or your parent was registered or naturalised as a citizen (for example, as a British Subject, a Citizen of the UK and Colonies, a British Citizen, a British Dependent Territories Citizen, or a British Overseas Territories Citizen) before 21 May 2002.

If you are a British Overseas Territories Citizen who is also a British Citizen, another category you might fit is the one headed 'Residence in British overseas territories', where the residence area is bigger.

D. Right of Abode

If you have a Certificate of Entitlement to the Right of Abode in the UK in your passport, you have no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK.

E. Non-British Citizen serving in the British armed forces

If you are not a British Citizen and you are serving in the British armed forces, you are treated as having no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK, while you serve in the British armed forces. This is because of section 8(5) of the Immigration Act 1971.

Examples of where status is not 'settled'

You are not 'settled' if you:

- have a time limit on the length of your stay in the UK, as shown by your current immigration permission (you have 'limited leave'); or
- are exempt from immigration control, for example you are living in the UK as a diplomat or a member of their household/family (there is an exception to this if you are a non-British Citizen serving in the British armed forces – see above); or
- have a type of British passport that does not give you British Citizenship (for example a British National (Overseas) passport), and you do not have Indefinite Leave

(b) on the first day of the first academic year of the course, you must not be someone who qualifies for 'home' fees under the category headed '3 years in UK and Islands, EUSS settled status connection'

If you are someone who qualifies for 'home' fees under that other category, you will be assessed under that category instead. The three-year residence area for that category is smaller, it does not include the Republic of Ireland. The category covers people who have settled status under the EU Settlement Scheme, Irish citizens who at some point have lived in the UK and Islands for a 5-year period, and some people who used to have a right of permanent residence under European law and then applied for the EU Settlement Scheme.

(c) you must have been ordinarily resident in the Republic of Ireland and/or UK and Islands for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course. For example, if your course begins in October 2021 you must have been ordinarily resident in the Republic of Ireland and/or UK and Islands from 1 September 2018 to 31 August 2021

Note that it is not necessary to have had 'settled' immigration status for the full three years. You can obtain 'settled' immigration status as late as the first day of the first academic year of the course.

(d) the main purpose for your residence in the large area described in (c) must not have been to receive full-time education during any part of that three-year period

Tip: if you were in full-time education at some point during the three years, then ask yourself: If I had not been in education, where would I have been? If the answer is that you would have been somewhere in the large area that consists of the Republic of Ireland/UK/Islands anyway, then you meet criterion (d).

(e) you must be ordinarily resident in the UK on the first day of the first academic year of the course

3 years in UK and Islands, EUSS settled status connection

In order to qualify for 'home' fees under this category, all of the following criteria (a) to (d) must be met:

(a) on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for, you must fall into A or B or C:

A. You have settled status under the EU Settlement Scheme.

Take care not to lose your settled status automatically. This will happen if you stay outside the UK and Islands for a continuous period of more than 5 years (or 4 years if you are a Swiss national or a family member of a Swiss national).

If you seem to have been missing from the UK and Islands for a number of years, your fee assessor will want to check this with you, even if your digital status says you have settled status.

B. You are an Irish citizen and you meet requirements (i) and (ii):

(i) you are currently ordinarily resident in the UK; and

(ii) you don't have settled status under the EU Settlement Scheme, but you would qualify for it if you chose to make an application (this is because unlike other European citizens, Irish citizens don't have to make applications under the EU Settlement Scheme)

The only scenario in which an institution is likely to accept that an Irish citizen counts as someone who would qualify for settled status under the EU Settlement Scheme if they were to choose to apply for it (without actually applying for it) is if:

- At some point in their life they lived in the UK and Islands for a 5-year period. It will count as a 5-year period provided they were not absent for more than a total of 6 months in any 12-month period, during the 5 years. But the following exceptions are allowed to that general rule:
 - one single absence which did not exceed 12 months and was for an important reason (such as pregnancy, childbirth, serious illness, study, vocational training or an overseas posting)
 - any period of absence on compulsory military service
 - any period of absence on a posting on Crown service (this includes HM Forces) or accompanying a person on a posting on Crown service
 - any period spent working in the UK marine area

and

- The start of the 5 years was before the end of the Brexit transition period (11pm on 31 December 2020);

and

- Since that 5-year period they have not been absent from the UK and Islands for a period of more than 5 consecutive years.

This is not the only scenario in which an Irish citizen will count as someone who would qualify for settled status under the EU Settlement Scheme if they were to choose to apply for it. But it is probably the only one that an institution will be feel comfortable testing themselves, without asking the Irish citizen to actually make an application to the EU Settlement Scheme for settled status.

C. You are someone who meets all of requirements (i) to (iv):

(i) you had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020;

The most common way a person acquired a right of permanent residence under European law was if they were an EEA or Swiss national, or their accompanying family member, and they lived in the UK for 5 years (and complied with UK Government regulations throughout the 5 years). The right arose automatically at the 5-year point, there was no need to make any application for it.

Note that anyone who had had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK in the past was treated as still having it at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020, provided they had not been absent from the UK for more than the 5 years leading up to 10.59pm on 31 December 2020. Any absences before they acquired the right of permanent residence were disregarded when calculating the 5 years.

and

(ii) you are still waiting for a decision on an application that you made under the EU Settlement Scheme before the end of June 2021. Or you are waiting for the outcome of an in-time administrative review or appeal about that application, or you are still within the time limit for submitting one; and

(iii) your application to the EU Settlement Scheme was valid when you made it; and

(iv) you have not withdrawn your application to the EU Settlement Scheme.

(b) you must have been ordinarily resident in the UK and Islands for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course. For example, if your course begins in October 2021 you must have been ordinarily resident in the UK and Islands from 1 September 2018 to 31 August 2021

(c) if the main purpose of your residence for the three-year period was to receive full-time education, you must have been ordinarily resident in the UK / EEA / Switzerland / the overseas territories (these include Gibraltar) the day before the start of the three-year period

Tip: if you were in full-time education at some point during the three years, then ask yourself: If I had not been in education, where would I have been? If the answer is that you would have been somewhere in the large area that consists of the UK/EEA/Switzerland/overseas territories anyway, then you meet criterion (c).

(d) you must be ordinarily resident in the UK on the first day of the first academic year of the course

Family member of a UK national

In order to qualify for 'home' fees under this category, all of the following criteria (a) to (e) must be met:

(a) the UK national must be a UK national on the first day of the first academic year of the course

(b) you must be the family member of that UK national on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for

For this category, 'family member' means:

- spouse or civil partner of the UK national
- direct descendant of the UK national, or of the UK national's spouse or civil partner, who is:
 - under 21 years old; or
 - 21 or over and a dependant of the UK national, or of the UK national's spouse or civil partner

(c) you must have been ordinarily resident in the UK and Islands for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course. For example, if your course begins in October 2021 you must have been ordinarily resident in the UK and Islands from 1 September 2018 to 31 August 2021

(d) the main purpose for your residence in the UK and Islands must not have been to receive full-time education during any part of that three-year period

Tip: if you were in full-time education at some point during the three years, then ask yourself: If I had not been in education, where would I have been? If the answer is that you would have been somewhere in the UK and Islands anyway, then you meet criterion (d).

(e) you must undertake the course in the UK

Brexit temporary offer for courses starting before 2028: UK nationals and family with residence in Europe or overseas territories

In order to qualify for 'home' fees under this category, all of the following criteria (a) to (e) must be met (plus (f) in some cases):

(a) on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for, you must be either:

(i) a UK national; or

(ii) a family member of a person who is a UK national

For this category, 'family member' means:

- spouse or civil partner of the UK national
- direct descendant of the UK national, or of the UK national's spouse or civil partner, who is:
 - under 21 years old; or
 - 21 or over and a dependant of the UK national, or of the UK national's spouse or civil partner

(b) you were ordinarily resident at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020 in either:

- the EEA (this does not include the UK) / Switzerland / the EU overseas territories (see the Note below for what is meant by 'the EU overseas territories', they do not include Gibraltar); or
- the UK – but this will only be acceptable if:
 - your period of ordinary residence in the UK started after 31 December 2017; and
 - it immediately followed a period of ordinary residence in the EEA (this does not include the UK) / Switzerland / the EU overseas territories (see the Note below for what is meant by 'the EU overseas territories', they do not include Gibraltar)

Important: If you are using this category as the family member of a UK national, then all of (b) will need to be true for the UK national as well as for you.

Note: Here the 'EU overseas territories' means Aruba, Faroe Islands, French Polynesia, French Southern and Antarctic Territories, Mayotte, Greenland, Netherlands Antilles (Bonaire, Curacao, Saba, Sint Eustatius, Sint Maarten), St Barthelemy, St Pierre et Miquelon, the Territory of New Caledonia and Dependencies, and Wallis and Futuna.

(c) you were ordinarily resident in the UK / EEA / Switzerland / EU overseas territories (these do not include Gibraltar) throughout the period from 11pm on 31 December 2020 until the first day of the first academic year of the course

Important: If you are using this category as the family member of a UK national, then (c) will need to be true for the UK national as well as for you.

(d) a three-year residence test is met. There are two alternatives way of meeting it, you can choose either (i) or (ii) below:

(i) You meet the three-year residence test yourself. You will meet the test yourself if:

- you have been ordinarily resident in the UK / EEA / Switzerland / overseas territories (these do include Gibraltar this time) for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course; and
- the main purpose for your residence in the UK/EEA/Switzerland/overseas territories residence area must not have been to receive full-time education during any part of that three-year period

Tip: if you were in full-time education at some point during the three years, then ask yourself: If I had not been in education, where would I have been? If the answer is that you would have been somewhere in the large area that consists of the UK/EEA/Switzerland/overseas territories anyway, then you meet this 'main purpose' test.

or

(ii) You are the family member of a UK national, and the UK national meets the three-year residence test. For this to be acceptable:

- the UK national that you are a family member of must have exercised a right of residence in a European Union country other than the UK before 11pm on 31 December 2020. The right of residence can have been as a worker, a self-sufficient person, a student, or as a family member accompanying one of these types of people; and
- the UK national that you are a family member of must have been ordinarily resident in the UK / EEA / Switzerland / overseas territories (these do include Gibraltar this time) for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course

(e) you must undertake the course in the UK

(f) if you are using this category as the family member of a UK national, there is one extra requirement:

- the UK national must have been ordinarily resident in the UK / EEA / Switzerland / overseas territories (these do include Gibraltar this time) for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course

Brexit temporary offer for courses starting before 2028: Settled and exercised a right of residence

In order to qualify for 'home' fees under this category, all of the following criteria (a) to (g) must be met:

(a) you left the UK and exercised a right of residence before 11pm on 31 December 2020, having already been settled in the UK

Note: The meaning of having 'exercised a right of residence' is very limited. It only covers two groups.

First, UK nationals and their family members who went to the EEA / Switzerland exercising European rights of free movement as workers, students, self-sufficient people or as the family members of any of those people.

Second, people with the European right of permanent residence in the UK, who either:

- went elsewhere in the EEA / Switzerland exercising European rights of free movement as workers, students, self-sufficient people, or as the family members of any of those people; or
- went to the state in the EEA / Switzerland of which they or their family member was a national.

The most common way a person acquired a right of permanent residence under European law was if they were an EEA or Swiss national, or their accompanying family member, and they lived in the UK for 5 years (and complied with UK Government regulations throughout the 5 years). The right arose automatically at the 5-year point, there was no need to make any application for it.

The meaning of 'family member' in the Note above is:

- spouse / civil partner
- direct descendant of the person, or of their spouse / civil partner, who is:
 - under 21 years old; or
 - 21 or over and a dependant of the person, or of the person's spouse / civil partner
- additionally (but if the person is exercising rights as a student and is not exercising rights as a worker, then the person must be self-sufficient), the dependent direct ascendant of:
 - the person; or
 - the person's spouse / civil partner

(b) you were ordinarily resident at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020 in either:

- the EEA (this does not include the UK) / Switzerland / the overseas territories (these include Gibraltar); or
- the UK – but this will only be acceptable if:
 - your period of ordinary residence in the UK started after 31 December 2017; and
 - it immediately followed a period of ordinary residence in the EEA (this does not include the UK) / Switzerland / the overseas territories (these include Gibraltar)

(c) you were ordinarily resident in the UK / EEA / Switzerland / overseas territories (these include Gibraltar) throughout the period from 11pm on 31 December 2020 until the first day of the first academic year of the course

(d) you are ordinarily resident in the UK on the day on which the first term of the first academic year actually begins

(e) you have been ordinarily resident in the UK / EEA / Switzerland / overseas territories (these include Gibraltar) for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course

(f) if your three years' ordinary residence in the large area described in (f) was mainly for the purpose of receiving full-time education, you must have been ordinarily resident in the UK / EEA / Switzerland / Gibraltar (and not in any of the other overseas territories) the day before the start of the three-year period

Tip: if you were in full-time education at some point during the three years, then ask yourself: If I had not been in education, where would I have been? If the answer is that you would have been somewhere in the large area that consists of the UK/EEA/Switzerland/Gibraltar anyway, then you meet criterion (g).

(g) you must be 'settled' in the UK on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for

To be 'settled' you must be both ordinarily resident in the UK and without any immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK. The regulations take this definition of 'settled' from immigration law (section 33(2A) of the Immigration Act 1971).

You have no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK if you fall into one of the following groups (A or B or C or D or E):

A. 'Indefinite Leave' or 'settled status under the EU Settlement Scheme'

If you have been given 'settled status' under the EU Settlement Scheme, then you have no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK. This is because you will have been given either Indefinite Leave to Enter (ILE) or Indefinite Leave to Remain (ILR).

If you have Indefinite Leave to Enter (ILE) or Indefinite Leave to Remain (ILR) in the UK, you have no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK.

If you have ILE or ILR in Jersey, Guernsey, or the Isle of Man, then this is considered to be ILE or ILR in the UK whenever you are in the UK.

B. British Citizen

If your passport describes you as a 'British Citizen', you have no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK.

A special note for British Overseas Territories Citizens (BOTCs)

Many British Overseas Territories Citizens (BOTCs) are also British Citizens. The easiest way to show you are a British Citizen is to have a passport that lists your nationality as 'British Citizen'. If you do not have one, England's Department for Education indicates in its Assessing Eligibility Guidance 2021/22 (paragraph 3.1.3) that any of the following will be acceptable instead:

- a British Overseas Territories Citizen passport issued before 21 May 2002; or
- a British Dependent Territories Citizen passport issued before 21 May 2002; or
- a British Overseas Territories Citizen passport issued on or after 21 May 2002, but only if you also provide evidence that either:
 - you or your parent was born in a British overseas territory (check the list of 'qualifying territories' at www.gov.uk/types-of-british-nationality/british-overseas-territories-citizen); or
 - you or your parent was registered or naturalised as a citizen (for example, as a British Subject, a Citizen of the UK and Colonies, a British Citizen, a British Dependent Territories Citizen, or a British Overseas Territories Citizen) before 21 May 2002.

If you are a British Overseas Territories Citizen who is also a British Citizen, another category you might fit is the one headed 'Residence in British overseas territories', where the residence area is bigger.

C. Right of Abode

If you have a Certificate of Entitlement to the Right of Abode in the UK in your passport, you have no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK.

D. Republic of Ireland citizen

If you are a citizen of the Republic of Ireland, you have no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK. You are also an EU national and an EEA national.

E. Non-British Citizen serving in the British armed forces

If you are not a British Citizen and you are serving in the British armed forces, you are treated as having no immigration restriction on the length of your stay in the UK, while you serve in the British armed forces. This is because of section 8(5) of the Immigration Act 1971.

Examples of where status is not 'settled'

You are not 'settled' if you:

- have a time limit on the length of your stay in the UK, as shown by your current immigration permission (you have 'limited leave'); or
- are exempt from immigration control, for example you are living in the UK as a diplomat or a member of their household/family (there is an exception to this if you are a non-British Citizen serving in the British armed forces – see above); or
- have a type of British passport that does not give you British Citizenship (for example a British National (Overseas) passport), and you do not have Indefinite Leave

Residence in British Overseas Territories

In order to qualify for 'home' fees under this category, all of the following criteria (a) to (e) must be met:

(a) you must fall into (i) or (ii):

(i) You are a UK national on the first day of the first academic year of the course.

or

(ii) Both of the following bullet points are true:

- on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for, you are a family member of another person; and
- that other person is or was a UK national on the first day of the first academic year of the course.

For this category, 'family member' means:

- spouse or civil partner of the UK national
- direct descendant of the UK national, or of the UK national's spouse or civil partner, who is:
 - under 21 years old; or
 - 21 or over and a dependant of the UK national, or of the UK national's spouse or civil partner

(b) you must have been ordinarily resident in the 'specified British overseas territories' and/or UK and Islands for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course. For example, if your course begins in October 2021 you must have been ordinarily resident in the 'specified British overseas territories' and/or UK and Islands from 1 September 2018 to 31 August 2021

The 'specified British overseas territories' are:

- Anguilla
- Bermuda
- British Antarctic Territory
- British Indian Ocean Territory
- British Virgin Islands
- Cayman Islands
- Falkland Islands
- Gibraltar
- Montserrat
- Pitcairn, Henderson, Ducie and Oeno Islands
- South Georgia and the South Sandwich Islands
- St Helena and Dependencies (Ascension Island and Tristan da Cunha)
- Turks and Caicos Islands

(c) the main purpose for your residence in the large area described in (b) must not have been to receive full-time education during any part of that three-year period

Tip: if you were in full-time education at some point during the three years, then ask yourself: If I had not been in education, where would I have been? If the answer is that you would have been somewhere in the large area that consists of the 'specified British overseas territories'/UK/Islands anyway, then you meet criterion (c).

(d) you must have been ordinarily resident in the 'specified British overseas territories' at some point during the three-year period

(e) you must undertake the course in the UK

Residence in Gibraltar

In order to qualify for 'home' fees under this category, all of the following criteria (a) to (c) must be met:

(a) on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for, you must fall into A or B or C or D:

A. You are a UK national and you have resident status in Gibraltar granted by the Government of Gibraltar

You can show your 'red card' or 'blue card' issued by the Government of Gibraltar as evidence of your resident status.

B. All of the following three bullet points are true, on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for:

- you are a family member of another person; and
- that other person is or was a UK national; and

For B, 'family member' means:

- spouse or civil partner of the UK national
- direct descendant of the UK national, or of the UK national's spouse or civil partner, who is:
 - under 21 years old; or
 - 21 or over and a dependant of the UK national or of the UK national's spouse or civil partner

- you have resident status in Gibraltar granted by the Government of Gibraltar

You can show your 'green card', 'red card' or 'blue card' issued by the Government of Gibraltar as evidence of your resident status.

C. You are an EU national and you have a 'right of residence in Gibraltar arising under the EU withdrawal agreement'

To show the fee assessor that you have a 'right of residence in Gibraltar arising under the EU withdrawal agreement', you should produce your 'blue card', issued by the Government of Gibraltar (not a 'green card').

D. All of the following three bullet points are true, on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for:

- you are a family member of another person; and
- that other person is or was an EU national; and

For D, 'family member' means:

- spouse / civil partner
- direct descendant of the person, or of their spouse / civil partner, who is:
 - under 21 years old; or
 - 21 or over and a dependant of the person or of the person's spouse / civil partner
- additionally (but if the person is a student in Gibraltar and is not a worker, then the person must be self-sufficient), the dependent direct ascendant of:
 - the person; or
 - the person's spouse / civil partner

- you have a 'right of residence in Gibraltar arising under the EU withdrawal agreement'

To show the fee assessor that you have a 'right of residence in Gibraltar arising under the EU withdrawal agreement', you should produce your 'blue card', issued by the Government of Gibraltar (not a 'green card').

(b) a three-year residence test is met. There are two alternatives way of meeting it, you can choose either (i) or (ii) below:

(i) You meet the three-year residence test yourself. You will meet the test yourself if:

- you have been ordinarily resident in the UK / EEA / Switzerland / overseas territories (these include Gibraltar) for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course; and
- the main purpose for your residence in the UK/EEA/Switzerland/overseas territories residence area must not have been to receive full-time education during any part of that three-year period.

Tip: if you were in full-time education at some point during the three years, then ask yourself: If I had not been in education, where would I have been? If the answer is that you would have been somewhere in the large area that consists of the UK/EEA/Switzerland/overseas territories anyway, then you meet this 'main purpose' test.

or

(ii) You are the family member of an EU national or the family member of a relevant person of Northern Ireland ('RPNI'), and the EU national or RPNI meets the three-year residence test. For this to be acceptable:

- the EU national or RPNI that you are a family member of must have been ordinarily resident in the UK / EEA / Switzerland / overseas territories (these include Gibraltar) for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course.

(c) you must undertake the course in the UK

Brexit protected rights: EU national / EU family / Family of relevant person of Northern Ireland

In order to qualify for 'home' fees under this category, all of the following criteria (a) to (d) must be met:

(a) on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for, you must be a 'person with protected rights'

You are a 'person with protected rights' for these purposes if you fall into A or B or C:

A. You have pre-settled status or settled status under the EU Settlement Scheme.

Take care not to lose your pre-settled status or settled status automatically. This will happen if you stay outside the UK and Islands for a continuous period of more than:

- 2 years if you have pre-settled status, or
- 5 years if you have settled status (or 4 years if you are a Swiss national or a family member of a Swiss national)

If you seem to have been missing from the UK and Islands for a long period, your fee assessor will want to check this with you, even if your digital status says you have pre-settled or settled status.

Note that if you have pre-settled status, you will not want to leave the UK and Islands much at all anyway, in case you risk prejudicing your chance to obtain settled status. However, that is for you to research, it will not be of any concern to your fee assessor – they do not give immigration advice.

B. You are an Irish citizen who “exercised their right to reside in the UK in accordance with EU law before the end of the transition period and continues to reside thereafter”.

You will have “exercised your right to reside in the UK in accordance with EU law before the end of the transition period” if either:

1. You were lawfully resident in the UK by virtue of European rights at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020

Note that some people who were physically absent from the UK on that date will still count as having been lawfully resident in the UK on that date. The following types of absence were allowed for these purposes:

- absences that didn’t exceed 6 months in total during that year
- absence on compulsory military service
- one absence not exceeding 12 months for an important reason such as pregnancy and childbirth, serious illness, study or vocational training, or an overseas posting

or

2. You had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020

The most common way a person acquired a right of permanent residence under European law was if they were an EEA or Swiss national, or their accompanying family member, and they lived in the UK for 5 years (and complied with UK Government regulations throughout the 5 years). The right arose automatically at the 5-year point, there was no need to make any application for it.

Note that anyone who had had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK in the past was treated as still having it at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020, provided they had not been absent from the UK for more than the 5 years leading up to 10.59pm on 31 December 2020. Any absences before they acquired the right of permanent residence were disregarded when calculating the 5 years.

Provision B exists because unlike other European citizens, Irish citizens don’t have to make applications under the EU Settlement Scheme.

C. You are still waiting for a decision on an application you made under the EU Settlement Scheme before the end of 30 June 2021. Or you are waiting for the outcome of an in-time administrative review or appeal about that application, or you are still within the time limit for submitting one. If you fit C, read the Note at the end of this category, for three extra requirements that you also need to meet.

Note: There are two reasons this is a less useful route to eligibility:

1. Institutions won't be able to assess you against this particular route to eligibility until it is past the first day of the academic year (because they need to check this is your situation on that date).
2. It doesn't give you any security about what your fee status will be for the following year, as your status will have to be re-assessed then.

So if you are someone who is making an application to the EUSS, make your EUSS application as early as possible, so you are able to show them your pre-settled or settled status, instead of having to fall back on this route to eligibility.

(b) you must fall into (i) or (ii) or (iii):

(i) You are an EU national on the first day of the first academic year of the course.

or

(ii) All three following bullet points are true:

- on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for, you are a family member of another person; and
- that other person is or was an EU national on the first day of the first academic year of the course; and
- that EU national is in the UK as a self-sufficient person, student, or worker, on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for.

or

(iii) Both the following two bullet points are true:

- on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for, you are a family member of a relevant person of Northern Ireland; and
- the relevant person of Northern Ireland is in the UK as a self-sufficient person, student, or worker, on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for.

For this whole category, 'family member' means:

- spouse / civil partner
- direct descendant of the person, or of their spouse / civil partner, who is:
 - under 21 years old; or
 - 21 or over and a dependant of the person or of the person's spouse / civil partner
- additionally (but if the person is a student and is not a worker, then the person must be self-sufficient), the dependent direct ascendant of:
 - the person; or
 - the person's spouse / civil partner

(c) a three-year residence test is met. There are two alternative ways of meeting it, you can choose either (i) or (ii) below:

(i) You meet the three-year residence test yourself. You will meet the test yourself if:

- you have been ordinarily resident in the UK / EEA / Switzerland / overseas territories (these include Gibraltar) for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course; and
- the main purpose for your residence in the UK/EEA/Switzerland/overseas territories residence area must not have been to receive full-time education during any part of that three-year period.

Tip: if you were in full-time education at some point during the three years, then ask yourself: If I had not been in education, where would I have been? If the answer is that you would have been somewhere in the large area that consists of the UK/EEA/Switzerland/overseas territories anyway, then you meet this 'main purpose' test.

or

(ii) You are the family member of an EU national or the family member of a relevant person of Northern Ireland ('RPNI'), and the EU national or RPNI meets the three-year residence test. For this to be acceptable:

- the EU national or RPNI that you are a family member of must have been ordinarily resident in the UK / EEA / Switzerland / overseas territories (these include Gibraltar) for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course; and
- the EU national or RPNI that you are a family member of must be in the UK as a self-sufficient person, student, or worker, on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for.

(d) you must undertake the course in the UK

Note, if you fit C in paragraph (a) above: If you are a ‘person with protected rights’ because you fall into C in paragraph (a), then you also need to meet every one of these three extra requirements. If you do not meet all three, you will not be a ‘person with protected rights’:

1. You must have either:

- a. been lawfully resident in the UK by virtue of European rights (as those rights were implemented by the UK Government in the UK’s EEA Regulations 2016) at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020

Note that because of the UK’s EEA Regulations 2016, if you were exercising European rights only as a student or self-sufficient person (and not also as a worker), or as a family member of a student or self-sufficient person, then you must have had ‘comprehensive sickness insurance’ in the UK. That means a European Health Insurance Card or private health insurance.

Note also that some people who were physically absent from the UK on that date will still count as having been lawfully resident in the UK on that date. The following types of absence were allowed for these purposes:

- absences that didn’t exceed 6 months in total during that year
- absence on compulsory military service
- one absence not exceeding 12 months for an important reason such as pregnancy and childbirth, serious illness, study or vocational training, or an overseas posting

or

- b. had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK (as implemented by the UK Government in the UK’s EEA Regulations 2016) at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020.

Note that anyone who had had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK in the past was treated as meeting b, provided they had not been absent from the UK for more than the 5 years leading up to 10.59pm on 31 December 2020. Any absences before they acquired the right of permanent residence were disregarded when calculating the 5 years.

2. Your application must have been valid.
3. You have not withdrawn your application.

This page is deliberately blank

Brexit protected rights: EU national, 3 years in UK & Islands

In order to qualify for 'home' fees under this category, all of the following criteria (a) to (e) must be met:

(a) on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for, you must be a 'person with protected rights'

You are a 'person with protected rights' for these purposes if you fall into A or B or C:

A. You have pre-settled status or settled status under the EU Settlement Scheme.

Take care not to lose your pre-settled status or settled status automatically. This will happen if you stay outside the UK and Islands for a continuous period of more than:

- 2 years if you have pre-settled status, or
- 5 years if you have settled status (or 4 years if you are a Swiss national or a family member of a Swiss national)

If you seem to have been missing from the UK and Islands for a long period, your fee assessor will want to check this with you, even if your digital status says you have pre-settled or settled status.

Note that if you have pre-settled status, you will not want to leave the UK and Islands much at all anyway, in case you risk prejudicing your chance to obtain settled status. However, that is for you to research, it will not be of any concern to your fee assessor – they do not give immigration advice.

B. You are an Irish citizen who “exercised their right to reside in the UK in accordance with EU law before the end of the transition period and continues to reside thereafter”.

You will have “exercised your right to reside in the UK in accordance with EU law before the end of the transition period” if either:

1. You were lawfully resident in the UK by virtue of European rights at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020

Note that some people who were physically absent from the UK on that date will still count as having been lawfully resident in the UK on that date. The following types of absence were allowed for these purposes:

- absences that didn’t exceed 6 months in total during that year
- absence on compulsory military service
- one absence not exceeding 12 months for an important reason such as pregnancy and childbirth, serious illness, study or vocational training, or an overseas posting

or

2. You had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020

The most common way a person acquired a right of permanent residence under European law was if they were an EEA or Swiss national, or their accompanying family member, and they lived in the UK for 5 years (and complied with UK Government regulations throughout the 5 years). The right arose automatically at the 5-year point, there was no need to make any application for it.

Note that anyone who had had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK in the past was treated as still having it at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020, provided they had not been absent from the UK for more than the 5 years leading up to 10.59pm on 31 December 2020. Any absences before they acquired the right of permanent residence were disregarded when calculating the 5 years.

Provision B exists because unlike other European citizens, Irish citizens don’t have to make applications under the EU Settlement Scheme.

C. You are still waiting for a decision on an application you made under the EU Settlement Scheme before the end of 30 June 2021. Or you are waiting for the outcome of an in-time administrative review or appeal about that application, or you are still within the time limit for submitting one. If you fit C, read the Note at the end of this category, for three extra requirements that you also need to meet.

Note: There are two reasons this is a less useful route to eligibility:

1. Institutions won't be able to assess you against this particular route to eligibility until it is past the first day of the academic year (because they need to check this is your situation on that date).
2. It doesn't give you any security about what your fee status will be for the following year, as your status will have to be re-assessed then.

So if you are someone who is making an application to the EUSS, make your EUSS application as early as possible, so you are able to show them your pre-settled or settled status, instead of having to fall back on this route to eligibility.

(b) you are an EU national on the first day of the first academic year of the course

(c) you must have been ordinarily resident in the UK and Islands for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course. For example, if your course begins in October 2021 you must have been ordinarily resident in the UK and Islands from 1 September 2018 to 31 August 2021

(d) if the main purpose of your residence for the three-year period was to receive full-time education, you must have been ordinarily resident in the UK / EEA / Switzerland / the overseas territories (these include Gibraltar) the day before the start of the three-year period

Tip: if you were in full-time education at some point during the three years, then ask yourself: If I had not been in education, where would I have been? If the answer is that you would have been somewhere in the large area that consists of the UK/EEA/Switzerland/overseas territories anyway, then you meet criterion (d).

(e) you must be ordinarily resident in the UK on the first day of the first academic year of the course

Note, if you fit C in paragraph (a) above: If you are a ‘person with protected rights’ because you fall into C in paragraph (a), then you also need to meet every one of these three extra requirements. If you do not meet all three, you will not be a ‘person with protected rights’:

1. You must have either:

a. been lawfully resident in the UK by virtue of European rights (as those rights were implemented by the UK Government in the UK’s EEA Regulations 2016) at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020

Note that because of the UK’s EEA Regulations 2016, if you were exercising European rights only as a student or self-sufficient person (and not also as a worker), or as a family member of a student or self-sufficient person, then you must have had ‘comprehensive sickness insurance’ in the UK. That means a European Health Insurance Card or private health insurance.

Note also that some people who were physically absent from the UK on that date will still count as having been lawfully resident in the UK on that date. The following types of absence were allowed for these purposes:

- - absences that didn’t exceed 6 months in total during that year
 - absence on compulsory military service
 - one absence not exceeding 12 months for an important reason such as pregnancy and childbirth, serious illness, study or vocational training, or an overseas posting

or

b. had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK (as implemented by the UK Government in the UK’s EEA Regulations 2016) at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020.

Note that anyone who had had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK in the past was treated as meeting b, provided they had not been absent from the UK for more than the 5 years leading up to 10.59pm on 31 December 2020. Any absences before they acquired the right of permanent residence were disregarded when calculating the 5 years.

2. Your application must have been valid.

3. You have not withdrawn your application.

Brexit protected rights: Worker and family

In order to qualify for 'home' fees under this category, all of the following criteria (a) to (d) must be met:

(a) on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for, you must fall into (i) or (ii) or (iii) or (iv):

(i) a relevant person of Northern Ireland who is either employed or self-employed in the UK (but you must not be someone who goes to a residence in the EEA or Switzerland at least once a week), or their family member

Look at paragraph (b)(iii) below to see who counts as a 'family member'.

or

(ii) a 'person with protected rights'

You are a 'person with protected rights' for these purposes if you fall into A or B or C:

A. You have pre-settled status or settled status under the EU Settlement Scheme.

Take care not to lose your pre-settled status or settled status automatically. This will happen if you stay outside the UK and Islands for a continuous period of more than:

- 2 years if you have pre-settled status, or
- 5 years if you have settled status (or 4 years if you are a Swiss national or a family member of a Swiss national)

If you seem to have been missing from the UK and Islands for a long period, your fee assessor will want to check this with you, even if your digital status says you have pre-settled or settled status.

Note that if you have pre-settled status, you will not want to leave the UK and Islands much at all anyway, in case you risk prejudicing your chance to obtain settled status. However, that is for you to research, it will not be of any concern to your fee assessor – they do not give immigration advice.

B. You are an Irish citizen who “exercised their right to reside in the UK in accordance with EU law before the end of the transition period and continues to reside thereafter”.

You will have “exercised your right to reside in the UK in accordance with EU law before the end of the transition period” if either:

1. You were lawfully resident in the UK by virtue of European rights at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020

Note that some people who were physically absent from the UK on that date will still count as having been lawfully resident in the UK on that date. The following types of absence were allowed for these purposes:

- absences that didn't exceed 6 months in total during that year
- absence on compulsory military service
- one absence not exceeding 12 months for an important reason such as pregnancy and childbirth, serious illness, study or vocational training, or an overseas posting

or

2. You had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020

The most common way a person acquired a right of permanent residence under European law was if they were an EEA or Swiss national, or their accompanying family member, and they lived in the UK for 5 years (and complied with UK Government regulations throughout the 5 years). The right arose automatically at the 5-year point, there was no need to make any application for it.

Note that anyone who had had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK in the past was treated as still having it at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020, provided they had not been absent from the UK for more than the 5 years leading up to 10.59pm on 31 December 2020. Any absences before they acquired the right of permanent residence were disregarded when calculating the 5 years.

Provision B exists because unlike other European citizens, Irish citizens don't have to make applications under the EU Settlement Scheme.

C. You are still waiting for a decision on an application you made under the EU Settlement Scheme before the end of 30 June 2021. Or you are waiting for the outcome of an in-time administrative review or appeal about that application, or you are still within the time limit for submitting one. If you fit C, read the Note at the end of this category, for three extra requirements that you also need to meet.

Note: There are two reasons this is a less useful route to eligibility:

1. Institutions won't be able to assess you against this particular route to eligibility until it is past the first day of the academic year (because they need to check this is your situation on that date).
2. It doesn't give you any security about what your fee status will be for the following year, as your status will have to be re-assessed then.

So if you are someone who is making an application to the EUSS, make your EUSS application as early as possible, so you are able to show them your pre-settled or settled status, instead of having to fall back on this route to eligibility.

or

(iii) the holder of a frontier worker permit, who still meets the definition of a 'frontier worker' from the Frontier Workers regulations

The note below (headed 'Note, if you are a frontier worker') explains who still meets the definition of a 'frontier worker' from the Frontier Workers regulations.

or

(iv) an Irish citizen who met the definition of a 'frontier worker' from the Frontier Workers regulations at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020, and who still meets that definition. Note that to meet the definition, you don't need to have been in the UK at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020.

To meet the definition of a 'frontier worker' in the Frontier Workers regulations, it must be the case that from 10.59pm on 31 December 2020 onwards, you carry on being A, B and C:

A. an EEA or a Swiss national

and

B. 'not primarily resident in the UK'

It is easier to satisfy this requirement than you might think: It is enough if you return to your country of residence outside the UK at least once every 6 months, or twice every 12 months; and this requirement can even be ignored sometimes if there are 'exceptional reasons' for not meeting it. An alternative way of satisfying the requirement is if you are in the UK for less than 180 days in 12 months.

and

C. a worker or self-employed person in the UK (or someone who has 'retained' that status – see the note towards the bottom of this category that is headed 'Note, if you are a frontier worker', to see who will retain that status)

Confusingly, this does not mean you need to stay in the UK. You will leave the UK for periods, and will only stop meeting the definition if you fail to come back to the UK for work at least once in every rolling 12-month period (you count the rolling 12 months from the end of the period of work in 2020 that you relied on to qualify you as a frontier worker in the first place).

Important: If you do not meet B or C for coronavirus-related reasons, go to the UK Home Office's 'Frontier worker permit scheme caseworker guidance' at www.gov.uk/government/publications/frontier-worker-permit-scheme-caseworker-guidance. Look under the heading 'Coronavirus (COVID-19)'. There are a number of useful policies there, which might mean you should be treated as though you do meet B or C.

(b) on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for, you must be one of the following (you can be (i) or (ii) or (iii) or (iv) or (v)):

(i) an EEA national or a Swiss national, and resident in the UK as a worker

Here UKCISA uses the term 'worker' to include employed people and self-employed people.

Student Finance England's Assessing Eligibility Guidance includes these comments in their description of who is covered by the term 'worker':

- "the term 'worker'...must be interpreted broadly and not restrictively"
- "a person who enters the UK with the principal intention of pursuing a course of study, but who also pursues effective and genuine employment activities in the UK, is not precluded from having the status of a worker"
- "the services performed...must have some economic value and form part of the normal labour market"
- "a person is not precluded from being classified as a 'worker' where their work is part-time...low wage...below the minimum subsistence wage...on-call...or short-term"
- "a person is not required to complete a minimum period of employment before being able to attain the status of a worker"
- "the activity performed...must...be effective and genuine, to the exclusion of activities of such a small scale as to be regarded as purely marginal and ancillary"
- "work is marginal if it is minimal, negligible or insignificant"
- "work will be ancillary if it is done pursuant to some other relationship between the person providing the services and the person receiving the benefit of those services, such as where a lodger performs a small task for his landlord"
- "Department for Education has set an indicative threshold of 10 hours of paid work per week either in term time or during holiday. Where a student works

10 or more hours per week and is paid for that work under an employment contract, that is a strong indicator the student is a worker. It is important to note that where this threshold is not met, a person may still qualify as a worker”

- “consistent work for an employer over several years but only for a few hours a week, this could indicate they were a worker”
- “Self-employed persons are in a slightly different position to other workers. It is common for self-employed workers to have periods where no work is carried out. Irregular or intermittent work will not preclude a person from being properly regarded as self-employed (or as a worker). It must be considered whether the person is experiencing a temporary lull in work or whether the change in their working patterns means that they are no longer in continuing self-employment”
- “Where a person has ceased work either before undertaking their higher education studies or has ceased work during their higher education studies, the person will be able to retain their status as a worker...provided there is a link or connection between the previous work activities performed...in the United Kingdom, and the course of study...As an exception, such a connection may not be required where the person has involuntarily become unemployed and is obliged by labour market conditions to undertake occupational retraining in another field of activity...It is not necessary however to show any link or connection where the person works at the same time as studying”

For a more detailed explanation of the Government’s view of who is defined as a worker, read the following sections in the UK Home Office’s ‘Frontier worker permit scheme caseworker guidance’ at www.gov.uk/government/publications/frontier-worker-permit-scheme-caseworker-guidance: ‘Workers’, ‘Self-employed persons’ and ‘Assessing whether the EEA citizen has retained worker or retained self-employed person status’. The section headed ‘Coronavirus (COVID-19)’ includes some special policies that might also be relevant to some people. Even though the guidance is targeted at ‘frontier workers’, it tells us who the UK Government thinks counts as a worker in general.

or

(ii) a relevant person of Northern Ireland who is either employed or self-employed in the UK (but you must not be someone who goes to a residence in the EEA or Switzerland at least once a week)

When considering whether you are employed or self-employed, similar considerations will apply as the ones explained in the note just above, about the term ‘worker’ (the note under (b)(i)).

or

(iii) a family member of a person described in (i) or (ii)

For this category, the 'family member' of an EEA national or a relevant person of Northern Ireland (Swiss nationals are different – see below) means their:

- spouse / civil partner
- direct descendant of the person, or of their spouse / civil partner, who is:
 - under 21 years old; or
 - 21 or over and a dependant of the person or of the person's spouse / civil partner
- the dependent direct ascendant of:
 - the person; or
 - the person's spouse / civil partner

For this category, the 'family member' of a Swiss national means their:

- spouse / civil partner
- the child of:
 - the Swiss national; or
 - the Swiss national's spouse / civil partner

Special note: Here the child can be over 21 and not dependent on anyone.

The regulations simply state that "'parent' means a parent, guardian or any other person having parental responsibility for a child, and 'child' is to be construed accordingly".

You can read a Government explanation of what 'parental responsibility' is <https://www.gov.uk/parental-rights-responsibilities>. If a person is already 18 then 'parental responsibility' cannot start if it has not already been established.

or

(iv) an EEA or a Swiss national who meets the definition of a 'frontier worker' from the fees regulations

The definition of a 'frontier worker' from the fees regulations is a person who:

- is a worker or self-employed person in the UK, and
- resides in an EEA country or Switzerland and goes back to their residence there at least once a week

Note that this is a different definition from the one you saw previously, which was from the Frontier Workers regulations.

See the note under (b)(i) if you do not know whether you will count as a worker or self-employed person.

or

(v) a family member of a person described in (iv)

See the note under (b)(iii) for who counts as a 'family member' of an EEA national, and who counts as the 'family member' of a Swiss national, for this category.

(c) you must be ordinarily resident in the UK on the first day of the first academic year of the course (unless you are EEA or a Swiss national who meets the definition of a 'frontier worker' from the fees regulations, or their family member)

The definition of a 'frontier worker' from the fees regulations is a person who:

- is a worker or self-employed person in the UK, and
- resides in an EEA country or Switzerland and goes back to their residence there at least once a week

(d) you must have been ordinarily resident in the UK / EEA / Switzerland / overseas territories (these include Gibraltar) for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course

If you or a relevant family member become an EEA or Swiss migrant worker part-way through your course, you might become entitled to pay 'home' fees. You should seek advice on this from your institution, from your Students' Union, or by telephoning UKCISA's students advice line.

Note, if you are a frontier worker:

To carry on meeting the definition of a ‘frontier worker’ in the Frontier Workers regulations, it must be the case that from the date your frontier worker permit is issued onwards, you carry on being A, B and C:

A. an EEA or a Swiss national

and

B. ‘not primarily resident in the UK’

It is easier to satisfy this requirement than you might think: It is enough if you return to your country of residence outside the UK at least once every 6 months, or twice every 12 months; and this requirement can even be ignored sometimes if there are ‘exceptional reasons’ for not meeting it. An alternative way of satisfying the requirement is if you are in the UK for less than 180 days in 12 months.

and

C. a worker or self-employed person in the UK (or someone who has ‘retained’ that status - see below for who will ‘retain’ that status)

Confusingly, this does not mean you need to stay in the UK. You will leave the UK for periods, and will only stop meeting the definition if you fail to come back to the UK for work at least once in every rolling 12-month period (you count the rolling 12 months from the end of the period of work in 2020 that you relied on to qualify you for the frontier work permit in the first place).

Important: If you do not meet B or C for coronavirus-related reasons, go to the UK Home Office’s ‘Frontier worker permit scheme caseworker guidance’ at www.gov.uk/government/publications/frontier-worker-permit-scheme-caseworker-guidance. Look under the heading ‘Coronavirus (COVID-19)’. There are a number of useful policies there, which might mean you should be treated as though you do meet B or C.

If you are a frontier worker, you will ‘retain’ the status of a worker or self-employed person in the UK even if you stop work, if any single one of the following bullet points is true:

- you are temporarily unable to do the work because of illness or accident, or
- you met the definition of a ‘frontier worker’ in the UK for at least one year immediately before that, and you are involuntarily unemployed, and you are seeking employment or self-employment in the UK, and you are registered as a jobseeker with a relevant unemployment office or recruitment agency (if you fall into this bullet, you will retain your status for 6 months, but after that you will have to provide ‘compelling evidence’ that you are continuing to seek employment or self-employment in the UK if you want to retain your status longer than 6 months), or
- you met the definition of a ‘frontier worker’ in the UK for less than one year immediately before that, and you are involuntarily unemployed, and you are seeking employment or self-employment in the UK, and you are registered as a jobseeker with a relevant unemployment office or recruitment agency (if you fall into this bullet point, you will only retain your status for 6 months), or

- you are involuntarily unemployed, and are doing vocational training, or
- you have voluntarily stopped work, to start vocational training related to your previous work, or
- you are temporarily unable to work in the UK due to pregnancy or childbirth. If it is more than 12 months since you stopped work, then you will additionally need to show that you are seeking employment or self-employment in the UK, and you are registered as a jobseeker with a relevant unemployment office or recruitment agency. One point worth knowing is that periods on paid maternity leave don't count as being 'temporarily unable to work' – instead they count as work.

Note, if you fit C in paragraph (a)(i) above: If you are a ‘person with protected rights’ because you fall into C in paragraph (a)(i), then you also need to meet every one of these three extra requirements. If you do not meet all three, you will not be a ‘person with protected rights’:

1. You must have either:

a. been lawfully resident in the UK by virtue of European rights (as those rights were implemented by the UK Government in the UK’s EEA Regulations 2016) at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020

Note that because of the UK’s EEA Regulations 2016, if you were exercising European rights only as a student or self-sufficient person (and not also as a worker), or as a family member of a student or self-sufficient person, then you must have had ‘comprehensive sickness insurance’ in the UK. That means a European Health Insurance Card or private health insurance.

Note also that some people who were physically absent from the UK on that date will still count as having been lawfully resident in the UK on that date. The following types of absence were allowed for these purposes:

- absences that didn’t exceed 6 months in total during that year
- absence on compulsory military service
- one absence not exceeding 12 months for an important reason such as pregnancy and childbirth, serious illness, study or vocational training, or an overseas posting

or

b. had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK (as implemented by the UK Government in the UK’s EEA Regulations 2016) at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020.

Note that anyone who had had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK in the past was treated as meeting b, provided they had not been absent from the UK for more than the 5 years leading up to 10.59pm on 31 December 2020. Any absences before they acquired the right of permanent residence were disregarded when calculating the 5 years.

2. Your application must have been valid.

3. You have not withdrawn your application.

Brexit protected rights: Child of worker

In order to qualify for 'home' fees under this category, all of the following criteria (a) to (d) must be met:

(a) on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for, you must be a 'person with protected rights'

You are a 'person with protected rights' for these purposes if you fall into A or B or C:

A. You have pre-settled status or settled status under the EU Settlement Scheme.

Take care not to lose your pre-settled status or settled status automatically. This will happen if you stay outside the UK and Islands for a continuous period of more than:

- 2 years if you have pre-settled status, or
- 5 years if you have settled status (or 4 years if you are a Swiss national or a family member of a Swiss national)

If you seem to have been missing from the UK and Islands for a long period, your fee assessor will want to check this with you, even if your digital status says you have pre-settled or settled status.

Note that if you have pre-settled status, you will not want to leave the UK and Islands much at all anyway, in case you risk prejudicing your chance to obtain settled status. However, that is for you to research, it will not be of any concern to your fee assessor – they do not give immigration advice.

B. You are an Irish citizen who “exercised their right to reside in the UK in accordance with EU law before the end of the transition period and continues to reside thereafter”.

You will have “exercised your right to reside in the UK in accordance with EU law before the end of the transition period” if either:

1. You were lawfully resident in the UK by virtue of European rights at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020

Note that some people who were physically absent from the UK on that date will still count as having been lawfully resident in the UK on that date. The following types of absence were allowed for these purposes:

- absences that didn't exceed 6 months in total during that year
- absence on compulsory military service
- one absence not exceeding 12 months for an important reason such as pregnancy and childbirth, serious illness, study or vocational training, or an overseas posting

or

2. You had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020

The most common way a person acquired a right of permanent residence under European law was if they were an EEA or Swiss national, or their accompanying family member, and they lived in the UK for 5 years (and complied with UK Government regulations throughout the 5 years). The right arose automatically at the 5-year point, there was no need to make any application for it.

Note that anyone who had had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK in the past was treated as still having it at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020, provided they had not been absent from the UK for more than the 5 years leading up to 10.59pm on 31 December 2020. Any absences before they acquired the right of permanent residence were disregarded when calculating the 5 years.

Provision B exists because unlike other European citizens, Irish citizens don't have to make applications under the EU Settlement Scheme.

C. You are still waiting for a decision on an application you made under the EU Settlement Scheme before the end of 30 June 2021. Or you are waiting for the outcome of an in-time administrative review or appeal about that application, or you are still within the time limit for submitting one. If you fit C, read the Note at the end of this category, for three extra requirements that you also need to meet.

Note: There are two reasons this is a less useful route to eligibility:

1. Institutions won't be able to assess you against this particular route to eligibility until it is past the first day of the academic year (because they need to check this is your situation on that date).
2. It doesn't give you any security about what your fee status will be for the following year, as your status will have to be re-assessed then.

So if you are someone who is making an application to the EUSS, make your EUSS application as early as possible, so you are able to show them your pre-settled or settled status, instead of having to fall back on this route to eligibility.

(b) on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for, two requirements must be met:

(i) you must be the child of either:

- an EEA national (Swiss nationality isn't enough); or
- a relevant person of Northern Ireland ('RPNI')

But it does not matter if you are now over 21 and are no longer dependent on the EEA national or RPNI.

and

(ii) your EEA national or RPNI parent must be someone who has been employed (not self-employed) in the UK, and at some point in time you must have lived in the UK as the child of that person whilst she/he was employed here. You should usually have started studying in the UK (not necessarily this course) while under the age of 21 or while still dependent on that person, and at a level lower than higher education. It does not matter if your EEA national or RPNI parent is not employed now, or is no longer in the UK.

(c) you must be ordinarily resident in the UK on the first day of the first academic year of the course

(d) you must have been ordinarily resident in the UK / EEA / Switzerland / overseas territories (these include Gibraltar) for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course

Note, if you fit C in paragraph (a) above: If you are a ‘person with protected rights’ because you fall into C in paragraph (a), then you also need to meet every one of these three extra requirements. If you do not meet all three, you will not be a ‘person with protected rights’:

1. You must have either:

a. been lawfully resident in the UK by virtue of European rights (as those rights were implemented by the UK Government in the UK’s EEA Regulations 2016) at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020

Note that because of the UK’s EEA Regulations 2016, if you were exercising European rights only as a student or self-sufficient person (and not also as a worker), or as a family member of a student or self-sufficient person, then you must have had ‘comprehensive sickness insurance’ in the UK. That means a European Health Insurance Card or private health insurance.

Note also that some people who were physically absent from the UK on that date will still count as having been lawfully resident in the UK on that date. The following types of absence were allowed for these purposes:

- absences that didn’t exceed 6 months in total during that year
- absence on compulsory military service
- one absence not exceeding 12 months for an important reason such as pregnancy and childbirth, serious illness, study or vocational training, or an overseas posting

or

b. had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK (as implemented by the UK Government in the UK’s EEA Regulations 2016) at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020.

Note that anyone who had had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK in the past was treated as meeting b, provided they had not been absent from the UK for more than the 5 years leading up to 10.59pm on 31 December 2020. Any absences before they acquired the right of permanent residence were disregarded when calculating the 5 years.

2. Your application must have been valid.

3. You have not withdrawn your application.

Brexit protected rights: Child of a Swiss national

In order to qualify for 'home' fees under this category, all of the following criteria (a) to (e) must be met:

(a) on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for, you must be a 'person with protected rights'

You are a 'person with protected rights' for these purposes if you fall into A or B or C:

A. You have pre-settled status or settled status under the EU Settlement Scheme.

Take care not to lose your pre-settled status or settled status automatically. This will happen if you stay outside the UK and Islands for a continuous period of more than:

- 2 years if you have pre-settled status, or
- 5 years if you have settled status (or 4 years if you are a Swiss national or a family member of a Swiss national)

If you seem to have been missing from the UK and Islands for a long period, your fee assessor will want to check this with you, even if your digital status says you have pre-settled or settled status.

Note that if you have pre-settled status, you will not want to leave the UK and Islands much at all anyway, in case you risk prejudicing your chance to obtain settled status. However, that is for you to research, it will not be of any concern to your fee assessor – they do not give immigration advice.

B. You are an Irish citizen who “exercised their right to reside in the UK in accordance with EU law before the end of the transition period and continues to reside thereafter”.

You will have “exercised your right to reside in the UK in accordance with EU law before the end of the transition period” if either:

1. You were lawfully resident in the UK by virtue of European rights at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020

Note that some people who were physically absent from the UK on that date will still count as having been lawfully resident in the UK on that date. The following types of absence were allowed for these purposes:

- absences that didn’t exceed 6 months in total during that year
- absence on compulsory military service
- one absence not exceeding 12 months for an important reason such as pregnancy and childbirth, serious illness, study or vocational training, or an overseas posting

or

2. You had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020

The most common way a person acquired a right of permanent residence under European law was if they were an EEA or Swiss national, or their accompanying family member, and they lived in the UK for 5 years (and complied with UK Government regulations throughout the 5 years). The right arose automatically at the 5-year point, there was no need to make any application for it.

Note that anyone who had had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK in the past was treated as still having it at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020, provided they had not been absent from the UK for more than the 5 years leading up to 10.59pm on 31 December 2020. Any absences before they acquired the right of permanent residence were disregarded when calculating the 5 years.

Provision B exists because unlike other European citizens, Irish citizens don’t have to make applications under the EU Settlement Scheme.

C. You are still waiting for a decision on an application you made under the EU Settlement Scheme before the end of 30 June 2021. Or you are waiting for the outcome of an in-time administrative review or appeal about that application, or you are still within the time limit for submitting one. If you fit C, read the Note at the end of this category, for three extra requirements that you also need to meet.

Note: There are two reasons this is a less useful route to eligibility:

1. Institutions won't be able to assess you against this particular route to eligibility until it is past the first day of the academic year (because they need to check this is your situation on that date).
2. It doesn't give you any security about what your fee status will be for the following year, as your status will have to be re-assessed then.

So if you are someone who is making an application to the EUSS, make your EUSS application as early as possible, so you are able to show them your pre-settled or settled status, instead of having to fall back on this route to eligibility.

(b) on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for, both (i) and (ii) must be true:

(i) you must be the child of a Swiss national;

When this category refers to a 'child', there is no requirement for the 'child' to be below a certain age (so the 'child' can be over 21). There is also no requirement for the 'child' to be dependent on the 'parent' (or anyone else).

The regulations simply state that "'parent' means a parent, guardian or any other person having parental responsibility for a child, and 'child' is to be construed accordingly".

You can read a Government explanation of what 'parental responsibility' is <https://www.gov.uk/parental-rights-responsibilities>. If a person is already 18 then 'parental responsibility' cannot start if it has not already been established.

and

(ii) your Swiss parent must have pre-settled or settled status under the EU Settlement Scheme. Or your Swiss parent must fit the description given in (a)C, above.

If your Swiss parent has been missing from the UK and Islands for a long period, your fee assessor will want to check how long that was for. This is because your Swiss parent will have lost their pre-settled status or settled status automatically, as soon as they stayed outside the UK and Islands for a continuous period of more than:

- 2 years, if they had pre-settled status, or
- 4 years, if they had settled status

This will be true even if their digital status says they have pre-settled or settled status.

(c) you have been ordinarily resident in the UK / EEA / Switzerland / overseas territories (these include Gibraltar) for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course

(d) if your three years' ordinary residence in the large area described in (c) was mainly for the purpose of receiving full-time education, you must have been ordinarily resident in the UK / EEA / Switzerland / Gibraltar (and not in any of the other overseas territories) the day before the start of the three-year period

Tip: if you were in full-time education at some point during the three years, then ask yourself: If I had not been in education, where would I have been? If the answer is that you would have been somewhere in the large area that consists of UK/EEA/Switzerland/Gibraltar anyway, then you meet criterion (d).

(e) you are ordinarily resident in the UK on the first day of the first academic year of the course

Note, if you fit C in paragraph (a) above: If you are a ‘person with protected rights’ because you fall into C in paragraph (a), then you also need to meet every one of these three extra requirements. If you do not meet all three, you will not be a ‘person with protected rights’:

1. You must have either:

a. been lawfully resident in the UK by virtue of European rights (as those rights were implemented by the UK Government in the UK’s EEA Regulations 2016) at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020

Note that because of the UK’s EEA Regulations 2016, if you were exercising European rights only as a student or self-sufficient person (and not also as a worker), or as a family member of a student or self-sufficient person, then you must have had ‘comprehensive sickness insurance’ in the UK. That means a European Health Insurance Card or private health insurance.

Note also that some people who were physically absent from the UK on that date will still count as having been lawfully resident in the UK on that date. The following types of absence were allowed for these purposes:

- absences that didn’t exceed 6 months in total during that year
- absence on compulsory military service
- one absence not exceeding 12 months for an important reason such as pregnancy and childbirth, serious illness, study or vocational training, or an overseas posting

or

b. had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK (as implemented by the UK Government in the UK’s EEA Regulations 2016) at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020.

Note that anyone who had had a right of permanent residence under European law in the UK in the past was treated as meeting b, provided they had not been absent from the UK for more than the 5 years leading up to 10.59pm on 31 December 2020. Any absences before they acquired the right of permanent residence were disregarded when calculating the 5 years.

2. Your application must have been valid.

3. You have not withdrawn your application.

Brexit protected rights: Child of a Turkish worker

In order to qualify for 'home' fees under this category, all of the following criteria (a) to (d) must be met:

(a) at 10.59pm on 31 December 2020, all four bullet points were true:

- you were ordinarily resident in the UK; and
- you were the child of a Turkish national; and
- that Turkish national was ordinarily resident in the UK ; and
- that Turkish national had been lawfully employed or self-employed in the UK at any moment in time before that (it does not matter how many years earlier the employment or self-employment was – it might have been years ago)

When this category refers to a 'child', there is no requirement for the 'child' to be below a certain age (so the 'child' can be over 21). There is also no requirement for the 'child' to be dependent on the 'parent' (or anyone else).

The regulations simply state that "'parent' means a parent, guardian or any other person having parental responsibility for a child, and 'child' is to be construed accordingly".

You can read a Government explanation of what 'parental responsibility' is <https://www.gov.uk/parental-rights-responsibilities>. If a person is already 18 then 'parental responsibility' cannot start if it has not already been established.

(b) on the first day of the academic year you are paying fees for, both the following two bullet points must be true:

- you are still the child of that Turkish national; and
- that Turkish national is ordinarily resident in the UK (this includes a requirement that their residence is lawful)

(c) you have been ordinarily resident in Turkey / the UK / EEA / Switzerland / overseas territories (these include Gibraltar) for the full three-year period before the first day of the first academic year of the course

(d) you are ordinarily resident in the UK on the first day of the first academic year of the course

UK Council
for International Student Affairs

UKCISA

The UK Council for International Student Affairs is the UK's national advisory body serving the interests of international students and those who work with them.

UKCISA
Noble House
1st Floor
3-5 Islington High Street
London N1 9LQ

T +44 (0)20 7288 4330
F +44 (0)20 7288 4360

www.ukcisa.org.uk
@ukcisa

UKCISA is a company limited by guarantee registered in England and Wales (Company Number: 4507287) and a charity registered with the Charity Commission for England and Wales (Charity Number: 1095294). Its registered office is at 3-5 Islington High Street, London N1 9LQ.

UKCISA gratefully acknowledges the financial support it receives from the Department for Education, and from the Scottish Government.

Department
for Education

Scottish Government
Riaghaltas na h-Alba
gov.scot